"Gadara IIMSAM Initiative Joins Global Solidarity on International Day of Charity to End Poverty

September 5th marks the International Day of Charity, where the United Nations has chosen "Global Solidarity for Ending Poverty" as the theme 2023. This day emphasizes the importance of community cooperation and collective effort to combat poverty. It's also the day we remember Mother Teresa, born in 1910 and awarded the Nobel Peace Prize in 1979. Mother Teresa was known for her charitable contributions, which helped improve the living conditions of vulnerable people worldwide. Faraj Al-Omari, the founder of Gadara IIMSAM Volunteering Initiative and IIMSAM Goodwill Ambassador, recognizes the significance of charitable work in building strong and sustainable communities. He believes that diverse forms of charitable work, such as supporting families in need and aiding marginalized groups, are vital in creating a spirit of generosity and giving. Al-Omari stresses the importance of collaboration between civil society institutions and charitable organizations to achieve poverty alleviation and social progress. Under Fares Al-Omari's leadership, Gadara IIMSAM Initiative launched a humanitarian campaign, providing school bags and stationery supplies to students in the Jordan Valley regions. Al-Omari believes that charitable work is not only a humanitarian duty but also a national responsibility that should come from the heart of society to support the most vulnerable segments.
