

IIMSAM-NEWS-BULLETIN #0020474 -
UNITED NATIONS 2024 INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF CAMELIDS

Remigio Maradona, the Secretary-General of IIMSAM, has appointed Lamjed Chehoudi as a pro bono Goodwill Ambassador. Mr. Lamjed Chehoudi, born on May 8, 1986, is a Tunisian international footballer who played as a forward. Mr. Chehoudi will focus on IIMSAM's mandate against acute malnutrition using spirulina. He will also support IIMSAM's flagship program, the Spirulina Distribution Centre in Kisumu, Kenya, which addresses acute malnutrition in children and others. Mr. Chehoudi's role will also involve supporting access to healthcare, education, and sports for children at the Centre.

"Find more information about Lamjed Chehoudi on social media."

BELOW IIMSAM'S SPIRULINA DISTRIBUTION CENTRE - KISUMU - KENYA

DID YOU KNOW?

Since its inception in April 2009. Till Present. The IIMSAM Sh. Zayed Centre for the Free Distribution of Spirulina in Kisumu-Republic of Kenya has played a proactive role in the Food Fortifying Distribution Programme. Providing humanitarian aid in distributing Free Spirulina platensis to underprivileged communities.

DID YOU KNOW ?

IS THE ONLY INTER-GOVERNMENTAL ORGANISATION IN THE WORLD WITH OBSERVER STATUS AT THE UNITED NATIONS ECONOMIC AND SOCIAL COUNCIL MANDATED TO DISSEMINATE "SPIRULINA PLATENSIS" AS A HUMANITARIAN INSTRUMENT IN FIGHTING SEVERE MALNUTRITION THE NUMBER ONE KILLER WORLDWIDE ACCORDING TO UNICEF.

As long as poverty, injustice and gross inequality persist in our world, none of us can truly rest.

- Nelson Mandela